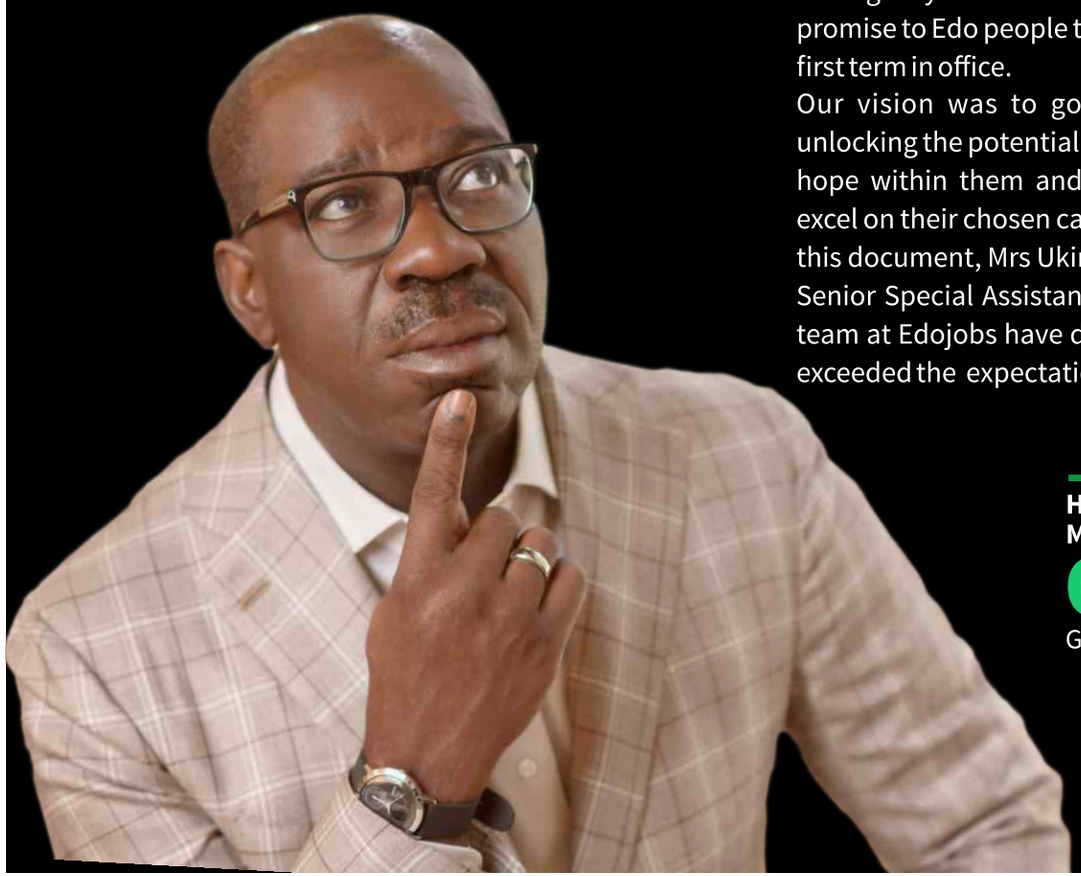
THE FIRST 5 YEARS OF JOB CREATION IN EDO STATE



The Edo State Skills Development Agency (Edojobs) was set up by the Edo State Government to "provide the supply of and attract the demand for highly skilled talent in Edo State". The agency is a fulfillment of the mandate of our promise to Edo people to create 200,000 jobs in our first term in office.

Our vision was to go beyond job creation to unlocking the potential of our youth by igniting the hope within them and ensuring that they could excel on their chosen career path. As you will see in this document, Mrs Ukinebo Dare who started as a Senior Special Assistant to the Governor, and her team at Edojobs have delivered on this vision and exceeded the expectations and milestones.

HIS EXCELLENCY,
MR. GODWIN NOGHEGHASE
OBASEKI
Governor, Edo State

We started in 2016 with an enumeration of citizens who were actively in search of a job, this yielded over 210,000 registrations and in 2017 Edojobs was officially launched. By 2019, EdoJobs had setup Edo Innovates, Edo Production Centre and many other programs that were actively connecting young people to jobs and building a community that was bringing hope and opportunity to our industrious young people. Edojobs became an agency in 2019 when it was signed into law and Ukinebo Dare was appointed as the pioneer the Managing Director of the Agency. This allowed us as an administration to strengthen the programs and expand the work exponentially.

By November 2022, we are proud of the work that Edo State Skills Development Agenacy has done and confident about the strategy we have for the future. We are grateful to our national and international partners that have added their hands to the plough to promote job creation and sustainable livelihoods for residents of Edo State. We invite more people to join in.

In this report, you will see the work that has been done in technology, agriculture, urban and rural areas, gender mainstreaming, job placement, institutional strengthening and so on. Congratulation to Ukinebo Dare and the team on 5 years of job creation. We are setting up the board of the Agency to focus on sustainability and further expansion of the work.

Keep up the good work.

INTRODUCTION

HOW IT ALL BEGAN

Dearest EdoJobbers,

I have an announcement. I share this with different emotions:

- With Joy, from thinking about all that we have achieved together
- Humble Pride, that comes from reading your constant stream of testimonials and stories of triumph
- Apprehension about the changes that must come
- With Excitement as new opportunities unfold!

Would anyone have believed it 5 years ago if we had told him or her that EdoJobs would become a model in Sub-Saharan Africa for Youth Employment, Short term vocational skills development, MSME development, job matching and career services?

Did you believe it 6 years ago when His Excellency, the Executive Governor of Edo State, Mr. Godwin Obaseki, declared that Edo state will become a national hub for jobs in technology, agriculture, film making and the creative sector? Or that Edo State would no more be the number 1 source for irregular migration and human trafficking?

One might have said, our expectations were too high.
That would have been understandable, but here we are today, all of us, beating the odds and living every day in that reality.

The time I have spent with you so far has kept me inspired, and kept me moving and learning non-stop. For these 5 years, the wonderful team at Edojobs and I have thrown our minds, bodies and souls into building the great vision for youth employment and youth engagement that was set out in 2016 by our Wake and See Governor.
There is so much that I am grateful for:

First, I am grateful for doggedness:
I remember when we decided to setup Edo Innovates in 2018. We were determined to setup the biggest innovation cluster in southern Nigeria, not just in the size of the building, but in terms of impact on the ecosystem. Some loud voices said 'Why would anyone want to hire techies from Edo State?', 'This project makes no sense' and so on. I am grateful for the doggedness that kept us going and to all of you who believed.

Today, EdoInnovates has partnered with the largest tech companies in the world.

Amazon, Microsoft corp, Alphabet (Google), Meta (Facebook), Udacity, Decagon, Uber, Work Your Data, EdoBits, American Towers Company, The Office of the Vice President (Npower), the German Government through the GIZ SEDEC Cluster and over 35 other partners have worked with us to connect young people to skills and jobs in tech. So far, EdoInnovates has introduced over 33,880 people to skills, remote jobs and international opportunities using technology and its just getting started.

Members of the Edojobs Supertechies Community are conquering stereotypes, winning awards and 'repping' Edo State across the world. We are proud of you.

Our new partnerships with higher institutions, Edo Tech Park and the World Bank-Supported EdoBESST program will ensure that we achieve our goal for Edo State to have the highest saturation of tech talent in West Africa by 2030.

Secondly, I am grateful for the opportunity to build and learn new things:
It is said, that creativity is not the ability to make something out of nothing. It is the ability to make something new out of things that exist. Thanks to the clear direction of His Excellency, Mr. Godwin Obaseki and to all our partners, we built so many first-of-its kind projects in the state and in the country:

- Edo Production Centre provides a cluster where artisans, small-scale manufacturers and students can work together with access to reliable power supply and shared work spaces. The center hosts furniture makers, polythene producers, fashion designers, machine fabricators and so on. Also, the nation's Bank of Industry operates from right inside the cluster. This is one project that stretched and pushed my team and I. We learned a lot.

- We also setup Edo Food and Agric Cluster, which started in one location before we pivoted to a model that's spread across farming communities. We have worked with 2,644 Farmers and young people across these communities to improve output and income across the Agric value chain. In short, if you want to buy farm produce from any corner of Edo State, the EDO-FAC team knows the farmers and has trained young people in communities who can serve as aggregators. Additionally, The Edo Farmers Market is about to commence operations with the collaboration of farmers in Ovia South West and Ovia North East.

- Being a creative, it has been a real treat to deliver jobs while learning about the entertainment and arts industry. We started with Our Pitch-Win-Shoot Project in 2018. Edojobs partnered with MADE II to co-fund 10 Edo-centric movies made by Edo-based film makers. Since then, we have midwifed collaborations with Tatafo HQ, ROK studios and many others that brought big-budget productions to the State. These partnerships are promoting many Edo-based stars on national and global platforms. Thank you ROK Studios, Africa Magic, Benin Film Academy and all who put their money where our hearts are to make this happen. Setting up the Victor Uwaifo Creative Hub and Sound stage was such a challenge and a pleasure.

- 5 years ago, if someone had told me that I would be the convener of a MEGA concert and an International Film Festival, I would have laughed it off, but creating jobs for you has given me that honour, the privilege and the experience of doing both. Thank you.

- I have also learnt so much from supervising the rehabilitating dilapidated buildings for the setup of up, 3 hubs, 7 job centres, 3 business clusters, 1 Tech park and many skills centers across different Local Government Areas.

Developing new things means that you have to face previously unsolved problems, that means that you will not always get it right the first time, so I am exceedingly grateful for resilience.

Trust me, you need resilience in order to stay true to your values and vision while working in the public sector. Thank you to everyone who questions, criticizes, attacks and even tries to pull us down. You may never know just how much your actions help us to continuously strive to be better versions of ourselves.

Before I tell you what my special announcement is, I would love to answer the top 2 questions I have been asked in the last 5 years:

The first question is "Mama Uki, Mama Edojobs, Mrs. Dare, Ukinebo, (you guys have given me so many names), How do you do it? How in 5 years did Edojobs go from being just an idea to a full-fledged agency that has executed projects with over 200 partners and reached over 200,000 people?

The answer is quite simple. I didn't do it alone. It started with a God-given vision from Governor Obaseki and his leadership. Also, everything you see in Edojobs today was achieved thanks to a team that held on to these ideals and values:

A. Hard work, integrity and transparency: Team Edojobs works hard. Whether its 8am, 10pm, or even a weekend, they will always respond when duty calls.

B. Positive engagement: We never shy away from listening and engaging with citizens who have genuine questions or queries. Shout out to members of the Edojobs team spread across LGAS and those constantly travelling between communities. A special shout out to our Edojobbers Association. Thank you for championing our work in your communities.

C. We are committed to the saying, "May the best man win irrespective of tribe, gender, socio-economic status, religion, physical abilities or political affiliations". We keep our screening processes as transparent and competitive as possible while being inclusive.

D. Partnership: This is where we thrive, this is how we soar. Thank you to all our partners for the work we have done together so far, there is much more to do.

The second question I get asked more and more these days is: What will happen when you leave Edojobs? Will all this work continue?

Here is my answer:

Before leading Edojobs as the MD, I had spent almost a decade working on job creation projects in Africa, it has been an honour to work in my home, building a solid team of over 100 people in Edojobs. Edojobs will keep working until Edo State is a top global destination for talent in Tech, Agriculture, Entertainment, Tourism, Manufacturing and Construction. We must forever thank God for the life of Mr. Godwin Obaseki, he is the catalyst and the visionary.

However, just as every child must one day outgrow being carried on its mothers back, Edojobs is destined to outgrow being led by me on a day-to-day basis.

The time has come for me to let the cat out of the bag.

Edojobbers, I have been given the opportunity to tackle the menace of unemployment from an Africa-wide perspective. In order to do that I have had to make the tough decision to pass on my role as the Managing Director of Edojobs. There will be a new MD who you will meet soon and a board to oversee the activities.

I am grateful, honored and humbled to have spent the last 5 years working with amazing minds and partners to build a first of its kind job creation Agency in Nigeria. We have broken countless records together and will do more.

Edojobbers, your career goals did not only keep me up at night, they served as my fuel during the day. Keep striving, keep learning and keep winning.

To the amazing humans on the Edojobs team, remember what I always say:

1. Everything that stretches you, builds you and helps you to unleash your best self on the world.

2. Don’t envy the people who seem to prosper by doing the wrong things. Wait on God. He is a rewarder.

3. Don’t waste time deciding what to do based on what people will say about you or you may never break barriers.

4. Don't be discouraged by the false stories of those who have nothing better to do.

5. Sometimes, the right thing to do is the toughest, most misunderstood and least appreciated thing. ALWAYS DO THE RIGHT THING.

I cannot end this without once again saying thank you to the one and only Wake and See Governor, Mr. Godwin Obaseki, thank you for your passion for Edo youth and your commitment to fairness and equality. Thank you for believing in me. Her Excellency Mrs. Betsy Obaseki thank you for everything ma, you are an inspiration to me. A special thank you to the Secretary to the State Government, Osarodion Ogie Esquire. Thank you for your leadership, guidance and your guidance and coaching.

In this brochure we will be exploring and celebrating the first 5 years of Impact in Edojobs from 2017 - 2022
It has been a pleasure to serve as the pioneer MD of Edojobs. I am honoured to be selected as the pioneer Chairman of the Board of the Agency and I look forward to working with the newly appointed Managing Director and my fellow board members to sustain the legacy of Impact.

Thank you everyone for celebrating and supporting us, thank you for the numerous accolades and awards, the Whatsapp and LinkedIn messages. They mean a lot, but to be perfectly honest, what means the most is that you never stop growing in your career and that you lift others up as you grow.

Paul Igbinobaro visited Edo Job Centre and attended the CV Review Class. With a standard Curriculum Vitae to back up his academic credentials, Paul was fully equipped for job interviews.

He recounts that his first three interviews were not successful and he was almost at the brink of giving up. Little did he know that Edo Job Centre was still keeping his CV and application in view pending when the right job comes up.

He could scarcely believe it when he received a phone call from one of the job counsellors at Edo Job Centre inviting him for another interview. Paul went for the interview and behold, he immediately got the job!..

the kind of job he has been dreaming of!

He has already resumed work as an Accountant at Medas Botanics, a skincare organisation with great prospects in production and export of skincare products.

Paul remains grateful to his friend who gave him the link, and more so, to Edo Job Centre who prepared him and facilitated his securing a job in less than six months from his first contact with Edojobs.

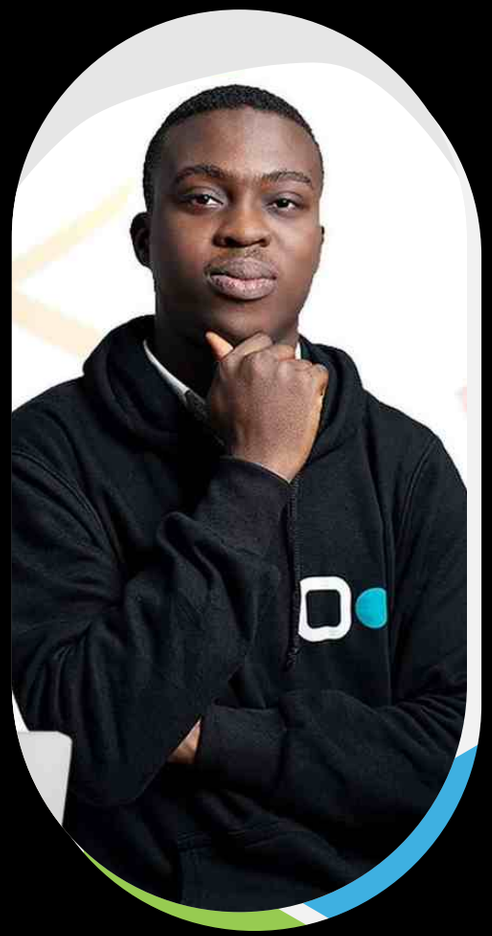
MY NEW BEGINNING WITH EDOJOBS

JAPHLET NWAMU

DATA SCIENCE & AI BENEFICIARY



From Edo Innovation Hub to Microsoft! He made it to Microsoft!

In 2021, Japhlet's major goal for 2022 was to work at Microsoft, a multinational technology corporation and one of the world's largest software makers. 5 months later, he's a Cloud Advocate at Microsoft! Dreams really do come true!

Japhlet Nwamu as a growing little boy, had his eyes on the world of computers and so he opted to study Computer Science. While studying Computer Science at the University of Benin, Japhlet's desire to explore the tech world came to fruition when he got in contact with Edojobs through his friends who were beneficiaries of the first cohort of Edojobs Data Science and AI training in 2018. His joy knew no bounds when Japhlet joined the second cohort of the bootcamp in August 2018 at the Edo Innovation Hub and participated in the Data Science and AI training.

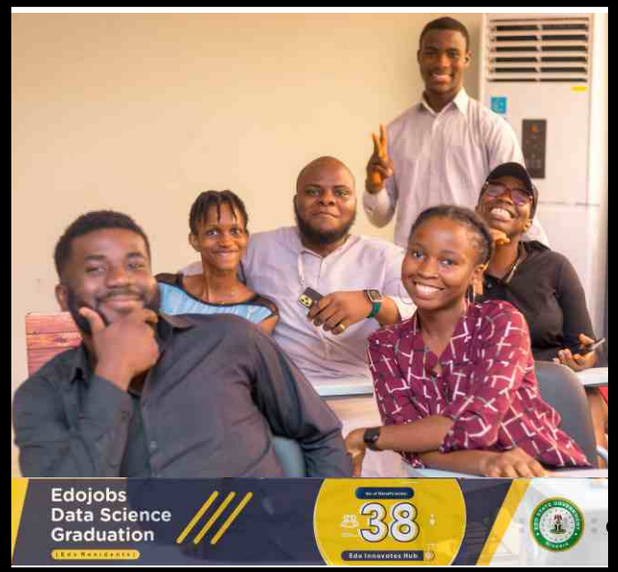
The training not only introduced Japhlet to the world of Data and AI, but also opened a wide door of opportunities for him to meet and interact with people in the tech space within Edo state and Nigeria at large. One of such doors ushered him into the opportunity to apply for the Microsoft Learn Student Ambassador program in September, 2019 - a program for students around the world to grow and empower themselves and fellow students.

Today, Japhlet is not only a Microsoft Power Platform User Group Leader in Edo State, but now the newest Nigerian Employee at Microsoft as a Cloud Advocate focused on Power Platform and AI. He has so far trained not less than 150 Edojobbers in 3 successful cohorts on Microsoft Power Platform (Power BI, Power Apps, Power Automate, Power Virtual Agents), and over 3000 Edojobbers in Cloud Computing, Computer Appreciation and Data Science.

Japhlet is also the Co-Founder and CEO at Halitta, a startup focused on democratizing a working knowledge of Web3 and helping organizations bring their Web3 ideas to life.

Japhlet Nwamu whose tech career began 9 years ago, in his admonishment asks Edojobbers and Edo youths in general to be daring enough to take a shot at opportunities whenever any shows up since opportunity is like a hauty goddess who wastes no time on anyone reluctant to embrace her.

Join us at Edojobs as we celebrate Japhlet Nwamu, the Edojobber of the Month of April.



SHERIFF ORIGHOYE

CLOUD COMPUTING BENEFICIARY

How much of you do your friends know? Can your friend order a meal for you and get it right?

Sheriff Orighoye Toritsemotse was known by his school friends as a tech enthusiast, and when his female friend came across an advert for a tech training, she thought of no other person than Sheriff. This single link has transformed his life and created a career path for this happy young man.

Sheriff was hanging around on campus after graduation waiting for one of the lingering strikes to be over so that he could complete his clearance when his friend sent him a link about AWS Cloud Computing training organised by Edojobs. With so much excitement, he rushed down to enrol for the training only to find out that the cohort had already closed for applications. He had to wait for 3 months when the next batch would begin.

Sheriff Toritsemotse participated in and completed the 12 weeks training in cloud computing, one of the most highly sought after tech skills today! Upon completing the training, he also got certified for free as a cloud computing practitioner with Amazon Web Services (AWS). With this level of skill he had acquired, he felt confident going into the labour market and once again, he went knocking at the doors of Edojobs and visited the Edo Job Centre where he had his CV reviewed and also participated in one of the weekly employability skills training at the Edo Job Centre and got exposed to interview tips, time management and interpersonal skills on how to sell oneself to an employer. Again, all for free.

Having learnt how to fish, and was properly equipped with the hook, Sheriff had no difficulty in landing for himself a juicy job as an ICT Manager with Diverse-Autocare Ltd.

Sheriff said that the AWS training gave him a better understanding of the online structure which offers better tech solutions. According to him, the A-Z of his career is all attributed to Edojobs. He got the AWS training that would have cost him a lot of dollars elsewhere free of charge, courtesy of Edojobs. He was also trained on interview tips where he acquired interpersonal skills that helped him market himself to his employer. Sheriff also got to know about the job vacancy through the Edojobs platform. How else can one be blessed by the Edo State Skills Development Agency?

Sheriff tells his story as a call for other youths in Edo state to take advantage of numerous opportunities that abound in Edojobs for a life-transforming experience.

Join us to celebrate Sheriff Orighoye Toritsemotse, our Edojobber of the Month of October, 2022.

Congratulations, our worthy ambassador.

Your own story can take a similar turn. Contact us today by visiting any Edo Job Centre nearest to you.

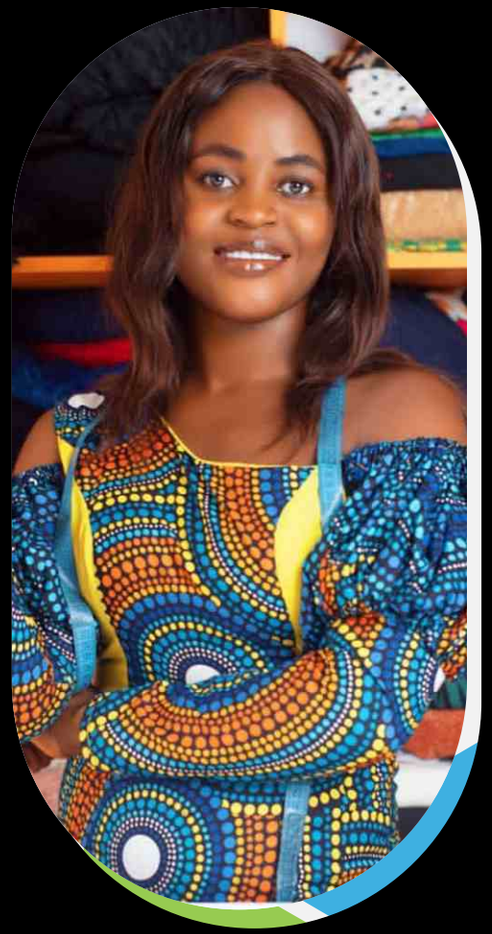
MY NEW BEGINNING WITH EDOJOBS

JOY OLISE

LEATHERWORKS BENEFICIARY



Our star Edojobber now empowers other young people like herself through training and employment.

Joy had faced so much hardship as she worked all day long in someone's shop trying to make a living for herself on a meagre pay. The hardship drove her to a tough decision.

Years later, the single mother came back as a Returnee. So much had gone wrong and many felt that hope was lost. They didn't know that she was about to prove that NOTHING can keep a strong woman down!

She came in contact with Edojobs through a friend who told her about the life transforming opportunities Edojobs offers those who live in Edo State.

Joy was fascinated with the apprenticeship in Fashion Design. She enrolled and spent six months on a paid apprenticeship. According to her, she saved most of the stipends she received during her apprenticeship and used it to establish her very own fashion design business. Amazing Right! But that's not even the best part yet!
Two years later, Joy's desire to grow her business led her to apply for another Edojobs training in Leather Works. In 3 months she learnt to make shoes, bags, belts and so on.
Her growing fashion business J ELEGANCE started offering services in fashion design and leather products.

Now for the best part
Our star Edojobber of the month also started to empower other young people like herself through training and employment.

#EdojobberTurnedEmployer. ⊠⊠We love to see i ⊠⊠.

And now 2 years since her first encounter with Edojobs, Joy is a Sound Engineer intern with Edojobs partners: ROK Studios.

Edojobs celebrates Joy Olise as an Edojobber who is growing against the odds of life, soaring above her past, training and empowering others and excelling in various fields.

We celebrate your success, undeterred perseverance and determination.
Congratulations!
Let Joy's story encourage you at your crossroads. You can reach your goals. Edojobs is here for you.

ASUU strike. A wasted time or gainful time?

While numerous Nigerian youth, university graduates, and school leavers are roaming the streets in search of jobs, a 300l female student of Ambrose Alli University, Ekpoma has already secured a future and established a business with the skill she learnt during one of the ASUU strikes, courtesy of the Edo State Skills Development Agency (Edojobs). The Human Physiology undergraduate who hails from Owan Sabongidda Ora in Owan West LGA, participated in one of the skills training programmes organised by Edojobs and learnt Painting and Paint Production.

Today, the self-dependent student is the CEO of Preshy Paint Home, an outfit that is into quality paint manufacturing as well as house painting. In recognition of her outstanding achievement in a male dominated profession, the management and staff of Edojobs have this singular honour of presenting this unique exemplary young lady, Precious Ojehomon as the Edojobber of the Month of May.

She engaged in the Paint Production training that exposed her to paint making, and how to prepare walls before paint application and designs. Precious continued with the practice, and has perfected the art.

Today, she can boast of having a long list of clientele and a mouthwatering patronage. While many others are on Instagram and not utilising the space, Precious is making waves on Instagram @Preshypaint_home with her exquisite paintings and quality paint productions, a profession that has before now been dominated by the male folks.

We hereby celebrate Precious Ojehomon as the Edojobber of the Month of May, 2022.

HARRISON OGIEMWONYI

SOLAR PANEL TRAINING BENEFICIARY

500l student hits top sales on Konga via Edo Online Marketplace

What do you do when a door is shut at you, turn back and go home? Or keep knocking and pressing the bell till you're let in?
Harrison is one man who did not take 'no' for an answer even when the door was closed against him, he persisted with a plea bargain until he was granted access. Today, his story is told with glee and pleasantries.

As a final year undergraduate of Electrical Engineering, University of Benin in 2019, Harrison's final project was on solar panel technology.

While trying to figure out how to go about the project, a friend told him about an advert for a training programme on solar panel installation organised by Edojobs.
His heart leaped for joy seeing that such training would endue him with the requisite skill to tackle his final year project as well as ingrain him with the technical knowledge for his future sustainability.

With such a high expectation, Harrison went to Edojobs, but by the time he got there, the door was already shut!
The 50 slots that the training was designed to cater for had already been taken up completely.

Now tell me: what would you do if you were confronted with such a situation? Shrug and go back?
Harrison did the contrary.

He pleaded and bargained to be let in just to acquire the practical knowledge without any starter park or certificate at the end. His appeal was considered, and so, he participated in the Solar Panel Installation Training in 2019.
While still practising with the training materials given to them at the end of the training programme, the Covid19 lockdown came.

Oops you say? Hmmm...

But not so for Harrison who saw beauty in an ugly situation. He saw that people who were locked down at home needed more electricity to power their appliances to kill the boredom. To him then, it was a time to cast the net for big catches. Harrison began to talk to his friends and families about the solar alternative power supply, and after persisting for a period of about 4 months, he secured his first gig.

He completed the solar panel installation, and it was working fine. The client told his friends, and his friends told their friends, and today, Harrison has a booming business called Elconnect Electrical with 8 staff on his payroll.
His advice to fellow youth is for them to be persistent, staying focused, and not giving up
Harrison expresses an unquantifiable gratitude to Edojobs who provided the platform that served as the launchpad for his business career.

Join us at Edojobs to celebrate Harrison Ogiemwonyi, the Edojobber of the Month of August.

TREASURE OGHOSA AGHAMWENYI

LEATHERWORKS TRAINING BENEFICIARY

Are small beginnings still a reality or a mere catch phrase?

Treasure is a lady shoemaker who participated in a 3 months free training on leatherworks organised by Edojobs for Returnees between November 2020 and January 2021. Today, Treasure has acquired much treasure from the trade as she turns out footwear of different kinds in commercial quantity raking in financial fortune, and currently has 13 trainees both male and female learning under her.

Her initial story was that of doubt and unbelief when a friend told her about Edojobs and the leatherworks programme organised for returnees. Treasure was not the only one who wondered if ladies engaged in shoemaking business, but her visit to Edo Innovates Hub after the lockdown of 2020 opened to her a door to a life transforming experience.

The story changed when she completed the training in January, 2021. Edojobs provided Treasure and her colleagues access to the Leatherworks Factory at the hub to start their own production. The more interesting part of the story is that she started her first production with five thousand naira (5000) that her mother lent to her. She bought materials for 3 pairs of footwears with the money, made the shoes and sold them at Lagos Street, Benin City. With the money she realised, Treasure bought another set of materials for 5 pairs of shoes, and the story goes on.

Three months later, she saved enough money and rented her own shop. Shortly after, Edojobs empowered her with a starter pack comprising a sewing machine, filing machine, thread, and gum, and BOOM! a life was transformed.

Treasure's idle and jobless days got over with a swift transformation. She is now an entrepreneur, employer of labour, and manpower developer who trains other youth amassing good fortune for her enterprise.

Join us to celebrate Treasure Oghosa Aghamwenyi, our Edojobber of the Month of September, a worthy ambassador, symbol of hardwork and dogged entrepreneur whose story depicts the proverbial small beginning.

Your own story can also change from an idle unemployed youth to an economic stable employer of labour. Take the right step today!
